NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

The French societies of New York will celebrate "The Fall of the Bastille" on the 14th and 15th inst., next Sunday and Monday, at Washington Park and Jones's Woods. The Sunday exercises will consist chiefly of music and oratory; those of Monday will include a procession and fireworks.

The disbursements to the flood sufferers in the Conemaugh Valley reached the generous sum of $2,200,000 yesterday. This does not include the money spent by the state to clear up the city. The sum to be distributed outside of Johnstown has been increased to $250,000. Of this the largest single sum goes to Williamsport.

SULLIVAN has been arrested en route, and will probably be returned to Mississippi. He would make a sturdy member of the chaffing gang of that state, and soon become an adept at breaking stone. Mississippi has no call to deal more gently with the great pugilist of Massachusetts than Massachusetts once dealt with Ned Baldwin, who got ten years.

KILRAIN is not dead, as telegraphed yesterday. He was seen on a trail at Little Rock yesterday afternoon, and was so sore that he shrank and quivered with pain when putting on his coat. He was supported in his seat with pillows, and his face and eyes were badly blacked. But he is hastening home from Mississippi, and "will live to fight another day."

The Indianapolis saloon keepers having refused to pay the increase of the license fee under the new law, which raises it from $100 to $250, forty of them were arrested yesterday. This brought them to terms, and they agreed on a test case in the courts, each one in the meantime depositing $250 in the banks, to be drawn by the authorities if the law is sustained. It will be sustained, of course.

A TRAIN of sixty children sent out by the Tribune fresh-air fund came near being wrecked in a wash-out near Brandon, Vt., yesterday. The necessity of sending the little folks into the country in search of fresh air on such a day as yesterday is hardly apparent to the common understanding. A large part of the fresh air fund can be "put to soak" for another year if this weather continues.

THE large sugar refinery at St. Joseph, Mo., has been closed by the Sugar Trust for three years, the consideration to the owners being $18,000 a year. This is probably a satisfactory profit for keeping the works idle, but it throws 175 men out of employment, at a loss to labor of about $100,000 a year. The Sugar Trust is under the protection of the Democratic party, which rejects all appeals to lower the duty on sugar.

FOUR jurors were obtained in the McQuade trial yesterday, but one of those drafted on Tuesday, farmer White, was excused on account of illness. The new jurors are Peter Murphy, Platt Mulford, Frank D. Rords and Charles Pitts, all farmers. The citizens of Saratoga are reluctant to go upon the jury and ingenious in framing excuses. They are anxious about their crops, and likely to think more about them than the case on sunny days.

PENNSYLVANIA has 9,318 practicing physicians in the state. A careful canvass of the registries discovers that 230 of these are practicing on bogus diplomas, with thirteen counties yet to hear from. It is believed that the full list will show over 300 of these bogus doctors. Pennsylvania has broken up a number of fraudulent medical colleges, whose sole business is to fill out blank diplomas and sell them, but many of these documents still exist and do service from colleges long extinct.

Mrs. JULIA GARDNER TYLER, widow of ex-President Tyler, died in Richmond, Va., yesterday, aged 69. She was Mr. Tyler's second wife, and was married to him in June, 1844, eight months before he retired from the White House. She was then twenty-four years of age, and her husband, who died in 1862, was thirty years her senior. She leaves four children, one of whom is President of William and Mary College, Virginia. She died of a congestive chill after an illness of about 30 hours.

THE most sensational witness in the Cronin case was brought to light yesterday. The daughter-in-law of Mrs. Carlson, who owns the cottage where the murder was committed, was standing on the steps of Mrs. Carlson's house when Cronin arrived in the carriage in company with a conspirator. She saw the Doctor alight and run up the steps, and heard the door slam when he entered the room where he was murdered. The man who drove the carriage remained in it and kept up a loud racket, whipping and swearing at the horse which was a very docile creature, but she heard a struggle in the cottage and believes that she once heard the Doctor cry out. She now concludes that the horse was tormented by the driver to divert her attention from the noise in the cottage.

Two very distinguished New York Democrats died yesterday—Samuel L. M. Barlow and Maurice B. Flynn. Mr. Barlow was 61 years old and had become a millionaire from the profits of a most successful law practice. He was an active and influential Democrat, but never a candidate for office. Mr. Flynn was born in Chatham, N. Y., a little over forty years ago, the son of a poor Irish farmer, and at the age of seventeen secured a situation in a Brooklyn grocery at $3 a week. He worked his way up till he became a member of the firm, and then engaged in politics. In 1877 and '78 he was elected to the Assembly from Brooklyn. He then removed to New York and became a contractor. He became a member of the County Democracy, and his influence in that organization secured for him many of the fattest contracts. Flynn became notorious through his manipulations to have Rollin M. Squire appointed Commissioner of Public Works, and the letter of agreement by which Flynn was to control the patronage of the office led to the indictment of both. Flynn also was active in starting the aqueduct project and manipulating the contracts. But since the appearance of the Squire-Flynn letter had not been conspicuous in politics. His death was due to ulceration of the stomach, and occurred after six months of painful illness.

SULLIVAN AND HIS CROWD ARRESTED.

The Big Brute Resists the Officers of the Law—To be Punished, Probably.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 11.—When the north-bound Louisville & Nashville train pulled into this city at 10:30 this morning a crowd surged around the car to see John L. Sullivan, who was on board. A rumor soon circulated that a requisition was in the hands of the police, several of whom had boarded the car. Some discussion and finally a struggle was seen in the car and an officer reached over with handcuffs and seizing the slugger's arm pulled him out into the aisle of the car. Sullivan resisted, and Muldoon, who occupied the same seat, put his head out of the window and cried to the crowd: "Gentlemen, I demand American protection." His patriotic wail was greeted with a variety of responses. Some cheered Sullivan and begged him to "knock the coppers out." Others cried: "Hurrah for the Nashville police!" "Hit him with your club!" etc. One young man hanging on the outside of the car window informed the crowd that "the cops have out their guns." After a brief struggle Sullivan was taken from the car and hustled to a carriage. In the scuffle he drew back to knock down a policeman, when Chief Clark stuck a pistol in his face and told him if he struck he [Clark] would kill him. The officers next grabbed Charles Johnson, of Brooklyn, Sullivan's backer, who resisted vigorously, but finally began to cry with pain. During all this scrimmage Muldoon sat quietly by and was undisturbed. "Mike" Cleary hid in the excitement, and one other named Lynch jumped off the train. Only Johnson and Sullivan were detained, though the others are "wanted." The arrest was made by authority of a telegram from Governor Lowry, of Mississippi, to the Nashville Chief of Police. Sullivan has retained ex-Attorney General W. H. Washington, who says the officers went beyond their authority and cannot hold the men. An immediate attempt will be made to get the parties out on a writ of habeas corpus. Governor Lowry's telegram offered a reward of $1,000, and it is believed that if released on the present charge Sullivan will be rearrested in order to secure time for a requisition to be obtained. The prisoners are now at the police station in conference with their attorneys.

The town is greatly excited over the event. An immense crowd gathered about the police station as soon as Sullivan was taken there and hopes have been waiting ever since in the throes of catching a glimpse of the slugger. Not only was Sullivan surprised when arrested but he was just awakened from a sound sleep. It is said he at first denied his identity. It is claimed the prisoners cannot be bailed in Tennessee.

COLUMBUS, O., July 11.—Governor Foraker received the following telegram to-day from Governor Lowry, of Mississippi:

Please direct Chief of Police of Cincinnati to arrest "Jake" Kilrain, "Charley" Mitchell and "Pony" Moore, and hold them until requisition can reach you. Charge, crime of prize fighting in this State.

Governor Foraker telegraphed a request to Chief Dietrich, of Cincinnati, to act in accordance with Governor Lowry's dispatch. JACKSON, Miss., July 11.—An act of 1882 imposes a penalty in this State not exceeding $1,000 nor less than $500, or an imprisonment for one year or both for prize fighting. A party causing death is guilty of murder. If mayhem, the penalties are provided for. Aiders and abettors are subject to a fine of not less than $1,000, or jail for six months, or both.

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—Kilrain, Mitchell, "Pony" Moore and "Johnny" Murphy arrived here this morning via the Iron Mountain Railway. There was a moderate crowd at the depot. A reporter hurried to the smoking compartment of the sleeper in which the Kilrain party were, and in a few minutes Mitchell cautiously opened the door and asked if there were any "bloody coppers" about. He was assured that the police slumbered peacefully. He then brought forth his principal. Kilrain looks bad, but is as far from the grave as before the fight is so far as the injuries received in the fight are concerned. He walks without assistance, but is far from frisky. He is a badly frightened man and fears Governor Lowry more than he did John L. He still looks to Mitchell and obeys his orders like a child. Kilrain said: "Sullivan whipped me fairly. I wasn't in condition. I was not drugged, don't blame anybody and acknowledge defeat. I still think I can whip Sullivan and shall try for another go at him." This statement was made in a disinterested way, however. Mitchell denied that there had been a falling out between himself and Kilrain, and said he would challenge Sullivan. The party will go to Baltimore via Cincinnati.

THE McQuade Trial.

BALTIMORE, N. Y., July 11.—Three additional jurors were obtained in the McQuade trial this morning, making 11 thus far. The eight jurors previously selected were nearly struck by a train while crossing the track on the way to court.

DOINGS OF THE REGENTS TO-DAY.

Motion to Change the Time of Holding Conventions Lost—Adjourned.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

ALBANY, July 11.—The Regents' Convocation assembled in its seventh and last session at 9 A. M. to-day, Professor George M. Forbes, of the Rochester University, addressed the Convocation on the "Elective Principle in the College Course." President J. B. Angell, of the Michigan University, was the only one who discussed the paper. A general discussion took place on "The Marking System as an Incentive to Scholarship, and a Means of Determining Class Rank and Promotions." The discussion was participated in by Professor Brainard Kellogg, of the Brooklyn College and Polytechnic Institute; Principal D. C. Farr, of Glens Falls Academy; Principal C. W. Richards, of Oswego High School; E. H. Cook, Principal of the Potsdam Normal School; President J. M. Taylor, Vassar College; C. W. Edwards, Principal of Oswego High School; James G. Allen, of the Rochester Free Academy, and F. J. Cheney, of the Kingston Academy.

Chancellor Pierson appointed the following Executive Committee for the ensuing year: President Taylor, Vassar College; Professor Forbes, Rochester University; Professor Fagan, Manhattan College, New York City; Professor Bristol, Cornell University; Principal Farr, Glens Falls Academy; Principal Allen, Rochester Free Academy; Principal Lovell, Elmira Free Academy; and Professor Stowell, Cortland Normal School.

A resolution passed by the Regents giving the Regents power to change the time of holding the convocation from the summer months to three days in Christmas week was lost.

A resolution of Professor O. D. Robinson, of Alabama, providing for a committee of three to consult with the Association of Associated Principals of the State with a view of having them hold their annual meeting the same time and place as that of the convocation was adopted.

Unanimous expression was given to the admirable manner in which Professor Oscar D. Robinson, Chairman of the retiring Executive Committee, had out the work of the convocation and the important and timely subjects on which he asked for the preparation of papers. Adjourned sine die.

THE NEW RAILROAD RATE WAR ON.

Chicago & Atlantic Meets the Reduction Made by Pennsylvania Company.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, July 11.—A paper here says: In spite of the fact that the Joint Committee was to consider the break in east-bound corn and wheat rates yesterday in New-York, the Chicago & Atlantic yesterday met the rates made by the Pennsylvania Road. This action leaves only the Grand Trunk, Michigan Central and Lake Shore, which have not met the rates. The Grand Trunk also gave notice that if the matter was not settled in New-York by the advance in rates, on all lines, it would extend the reduction to pig lead, lumber, hay and mail of wool to 10,000 pounds of uniform extension to all kinds of grain, flour, etc. None of the Central traffic roads believe there will be a settlement, and all are preparing to meet the Grand Trunk ultimatum. The Grand Trunk also reduced the minimum on cars of wool to 10,000 lbs. from 16,000, making a practical cut from about $85 a car, the present rate, to $55 a car, Chicago to Boston. The Grand Trunk justifies the cut by the fact that it is impossible to get more than 10,000 pounds of uniform wool over the Northern route, and it was a consequent imposition on shippers to charge for 16,000 pounds. Chairman Blanchard approves the Grand Trunk's action in regard to wool.

A session of the Inter-State Commerce Railway Association was held to-day. It was decided to allow the all rail routes between the West and the seaboard to meet any rates made by lake and rail routes.

DETROIT, Mich., July 11.—United States Senator Cullum, Reagan and Harris arrived here yesterday. They are members of the Senate Inter-State Commerce Committee. They will hold a three days' session to investigate Canadian railroad traffic.

DES MOINES, Ia., July 11.—A case likely to bring on a lively contest arose yesterday when constables here seized a car-load of beer consigned from Quincy, Ills., to Fremont, Neb. The car was brought by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Road and switched off with the explanation that it was to be sent to Nebraska over the Northwestern Road. The constables were suspicious that it was to be unloaded here.

UTICA, N. Y., July 11.—United States Judge Cox to-day issued a writ of mandamus ordering the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Railroad to receive and transport Nelson Morris' cattle cars from Buffalo to seaboard points.

Three Bodies Recovered—The Money Loss Exceeds $200,000.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

JOHNSTOWN, N. Y., July 11.—Rain here during the night raised Cayadutta Creek and shut off the search for bodies. The bodies of Alfred Coakley, Charles Frear and Albert Steadwell have thus far been recovered, but William Myers, aged 10, and R. G. Simmons, aged 35, are also known to have been drowned.

The most careful inquiry fails to reveal that any woman is missing. There were five men rescued from the flood. It is estimated that the total loss by the flood will reach $200,000.

The debris filled with thousands of skins from the factories along the River bank, and these form the largest part of the estimated loss. Many of these will be recovered. The skins are worth from half a dollar to $1 apiece. They are skins of sheep, elk, jacks, deer, water hogs, etc. Passenger trains have run regularly between Fonda and here. The misleading reports of the flood sent out have created anxiety both in this country and England.

Thousands of telegraphic inquiries were received. From the tone of many it appears that the senders supposed that Johnstown had been annihilated.

Sunday Law to be Enforced.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

CINCINNATI, July 11.—The Mayor has directed the Police to enforce the law against performing common labor on Sunday by arresting all grocers, tobacconists, ice cream and soda stand proprietors, barbers, etc. The order does not contemplate interference with street car drivers nor newspaper work, as the Mayor regards these as works of necessity. This action is taken at the request of an organization which is hostile to the movement which has caused the closing of saloons on Sunday, and is believed to be in the interest of the repeal of Sunday closing laws.

A "Fool and His Money," Etc.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 11.—George Whitmore, of Rochester, has complained to the police that he was robbed of $1,075 by Adolph Knapp, also of Rochester. The parties were to have been married here last night. Whitmore had drawn $1,100 from the bank and on the way to Buffalo Ada persuaded him to let her have all but $25 of the money, which he did. The money was accompanied by two mutual friends named William Wolf and Charles Boyle. Whitmore went to get a minister to tie the knot, when Ada skipped with Wolf and Boyle, taking the cash with her.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The President devoted the greater portion of this morning to a conference with the Civil Service Commission on the subject of their New-York trip. He afterward gave a special audience to the newly appointed Mr. William Guadalupe. KANSAS CITY, July 11.—Ethelbert Allen, a prominent young society man, was married last evening to Miss Virginia Riddle, daughter of the late Congressman Riddle, of Tennessee. Ashdown asks for $50,000 damages.

Mrs. JULIA GARDNER TYLER, widow of ex-President Tyler, died in Richmond, Va., yesterday, aged 69. She was Mr. Tyler's second wife, and was married to him in June, 1844, eight months before he retired from the White House. She was then twenty-four years of age, and her husband, who died in 1892, was thirty years her senior. She leaves four children, one of whom is President of William and Mary College, Virginia. She died of a congestive chill after an illness of about 30 hours.

THE most sensational witness in the Cronin case was brought to light yesterday. The daughter-in-law of Mrs. Carlson, who owns the cottage where the murder was committed, was standing on the steps of Mrs. Carlson's house when Cronin arrived in the carriage in company with a conspirator. She saw the Doctor alight and run up the steps, and heard the door slam when he entered the room where he was murdered. The man who drove the carriage remained in it and kept up a loud racket, whipping and swearing at the horse which was a very docile creature, but she heard a struggle in the cottage and believes that she once heard the Doctor cry out. She now concludes that the horse was tormented by the driver to divert her attention from the noise in the cottage.

Two very distinguished New York Democrats died yesterday—Samuel L. M. Barlow and Maurice B. Flynn. Mr. Barlow was 61 years old and had become a millionaire from the profits of a most successful law practice. He was an active and influential Democrat, but never a candidate for office. Mr. Flynn was born in Chatham, N. Y., a little over forty years ago, the son of a poor Irish farmer, and at the age of seventeen secured a situation in a Brooklyn grocery at $3 a week. He worked his way up till he became a member of the firm, and then engaged in politics. In 1877 and '78 he was elected to the Assembly from Brooklyn. He then removed to New York and became a contractor. He became a member of the County Democracy, and his influence in that organization secured for him many of the fattest contracts. Flynn became notorious through his manipulations to have Rollin M. Squire appointed Commissioner of Public Works, and the letter of agreement by which Flynn was to control the patronage of the office led to the indictment of both. Flynn also was active in starting the aqueduct project and manipulating the contracts. But neither he nor the Squire-Flynn letter had not been conspicuous in politics. His death was due to ulceration of the stomach, and occurred after six months of painful illness.

SULLIVAN AND HIS CROWD ARRESTED.

The Big Brute Resists the Officers of the Law—To be Punished, Probably.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., July 11.—When the north-bound Louisville & Nashville train pulled into this city at 10:38 this morning a crowd surged around the car to see John L. Sullivan, who was on board. A rumor soon circulated that a requisition was in the hands of the police, several of whom had boarded the car. Some discussion and finally a struggle was seen in the car and an officer reached over with handcuffs and seized the slugger's arm pulled him out into the aisle of the car. Sullivan resisted, and Muldoon, who occupied the same seat, put his head out of the window and cried to the crowd: "Gentlemen, I demand American protection." His patriotic wall was greeted with a variety of responses. Some cheered Sullivan and begged him to "knock the coppers out." Others cried: "Hurrah for the Nashville police!" "Hit him with your club!" One youngster hanging on the outside of the car window informed the crowd that "the cops have got their guns." After a brief struggle Sullivan was taken from the car and hustled to a carriage. In the scuffle he drew back to knock down a policeman, when Chief Clark stuck a pistol in his face and told him if he struck he [Clark] would kill him. The officers next grabbed Charles Johnson, of Brooklyn, Sullivan's backer, who resisted vigorously, but finally began to cry with pain. During all this scrimmage Muldoon sat quietly by and was undisturbed. "Mike" Cleary hid in the excitement, and one other named Lynch jumped off the train. Only Johnson and Sullivan were detained, though the others are "wanted." The arrest was made by authority of a telegram from Governor Lowry, of Mississippi, to the Nashville Chief of Police. Sullivan has retained ex-Attorney General W. H. Washington, who says the officers went beyond their authority and cannot hold the men. An immediate attempt will be made to get the parties out on a writ of habeas corpus. Governor Lowry's telegram offered a reward of $1,000, and it is believed that if released on the present charge Sullivan will be rearrested in order to secure time for a requisition to be obtained. The prisoners are now at the police station in conference with their attorneys.

An immense crowd gathered about the police station as soon as Sullivan was taken there and throngs have been waiting ever since in the hopes of catching a glimpse of the slugger. Not only was Sullivan surprised when arrested but he was just awakened from a sound sleep. It is said he at first denied his identity. It is claimed the prisoners cannot be bailed in Tennessee.

COLUMBUS, O., July 11.—Governor Foraker received the following telegram today from Governor Lowry, of Mississippi:

Please direct Chief of Police of Cincinnati to arrest "Jake" Kirkin, "Charley" Mitchell and "Pony" Moore, and hold them until requisition can reach you. Charge, crime of prize fighting in this State.

Governor Foraker telegraphed a request to Chief Detsch, of Cincinnati, to act in accordance with Governor Lowry's dispatch.

JACKSON, Miss., July 11.—An act of 1882 imposes a penalty in this State not exceeding $1,000 nor less than $500, or an imprisonment for one year or both for prize fighting. A party causing death is guilty of murder. If mayhem, the penalties are provided for. Aiders and abettors are subject to a fine of not less than $1,000, or jail for six months, or both.

St. Louis, July 11.—Kilrain, Mitchell, "Pony" Moore and "Johnny" Murphy arrived here this morning via the Iron Mountain Railway. There was a moderate crowd at the depot. A reporter hurried to the smoking compartment of the sleeper in which the Kilrain party were, and in a few minutes Mitchell cautiously opened the door and asked if there were any "bloody coppers" about. He was assured that the police slumbered peacefully. He then brought forth his principal. Kilrain looks bad, but is as far from the grave as before the fight in so far as the injuries received in the fight are concerned. He walks without assistance, but is far from frisky. He is a badly frightened man and fears Governor Lowry more than he did John L. He still looks to Mitchell and obeys his orders like a child. Kilrain said, "Sullivan whipped me fairly, I wasn't in condition. I was not drugged, don't blame anybody and acknowledge defeat. I still think I can whip Sullivan and shall try for another go at him." This statement was made in a disinterested way, however. Mitchell denied that there had been a falling out between himself and Kilrain, and said he would challenge Sullivan. The party will go to Baltimore via Cincinnati.

DOINGS OF THE REGENTS TO-DAY.

Motion to Change the Time of Holding Conventions Lost—Adjourned.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

ALBANY, July 11.—The Regents Convocation assembled in its seventh and last session at 9 A. M. to-day. Professor George M. Forbes, of the Rochester University, addressed the Convocation on the "Elective Principle in the College Course." President J. B. Angell, of the Michigan University, was the only one who discussed the paper. A general discussion took place on "The Marking System as an Incentive to Scholarship, and a Means of Determining Class Rank and Promotions." The discussion was participated in by Professor Brainerd Kellogg, of the Brooklyn Collegiate and Polytechnic Institute; Principal D. C. Farr, Glens Falls Academy; Principal C. W. Richards, Oswego High School; E. H. Cook, Principal of the Potsdam Normal School; President J. M. Taylor, Vassar College; C. W. Edwards, Principal Oswego High School; James G. Allen, of the Rochester Free Academy, and F. J. Cheney, of the Kingston Academy.

Chancellor Pierson appointed the following Executive Committee for the ensuing year: President Taylor, Vassar College; Professor Forbes, Rochester University; Professor Fagan, Marquette College, New York City; Professor Bristol, Cornell University; Principal Farr, Glens Falls Academy; Principal Allen, Rochester Free Academy; Principal Lowell, Elmira Free Academy, and Professor Stowell, Cortland Normal School.

A resolution favored by Melville Dewey giving the Regents power to change the time of holding the convocation from the summer months to three days in Christmas week was lost.

A resolution of Professor O. D. Robinson, of Alabama, providing for a committee of three to consult with the Association of Associated Principals of the State with a view of having them hold their annual meeting the same time and place as that of the convocation was adopted.

Unanimous expression was given to the admirable manner in which Professor Oscar D. Robinson, Chairman of the retiring Executive Committee, laid out the work of the Convocation and the important and timely subjects on which he asked for the preparation of papers. Adjourned sine die.

THE NEW RAILROAD RATE WAR ON.

Chicago & Atlantic Meets the Reduction Made by Pennsylvania Company.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CHICAGO, July 11.—A paper here says: In spite of the fact that the Joint Committee was to consider the break in east-bound corn and wheat rates yesterday in New-York, the Chicago & Atlantic yesterday met the rates made by the Pennsylvania Company. This action leaves only the Grand Trunk, Michigan Central and Lake Shore, which have not met the rates. The Grand Trunk also gave notice that if the matter was not settled in New-York by the advance in rates, on all lines, it would extend the reduction to pig lead, lumber, hay and mill feed, in addition to its previous notice of extension to all kinds of grain, flour, etc. None of the Central traffic roads believe there will be a settlement, and all are preparing to meet the Grand Trunk ultimatum. The Grand Trunk also reduced the minimum on car lots of wood to 10,000 lbs. from 16,000, making a practical cut from about $85 a car, the present rate, to $55 a car, Chicago to Boston. The Grand Trunk justifies the cut by the fact that it is impossible to get more than 10,000 pounds of unseasoned wood into a car, and it was a consequent imposition on shippers to charge for 16,000 pounds. Chairman Blanchard approves the Grand Trunk's action in regard to wood.

A session of the Inter-State Commerce Railway Association was held to-day. It was decided to allow the all rail routes between the West and the seaboard to meet any rates made by lake and rail routes.

DETROIT, Mich., July 11.—United States Senators Cullom, Reagan and Harris arrived yesterday. They are members of the Senate Inter-State Commerce Committee. They will hold a three days' session to investigate Canadian railroad traffic.

Des Moines, Ia., July 11.—A case likely to bring out a lively contest arose yesterday when constables seized a car-load of beer consigned from Quincy, Ill., to Fremont, Neb. The car was brought by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Road and switched off with the explanation that it was to be sent to Nebraska over the Northwestern Road. The constables were suspicious that it was to be unloaded here.

Three Bodies Recovered—The Money Loss Exceeds $200,000.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

JOHNSTOWN, N. Y., July 11.—Rain here during the night raised Cayadutta Creek and shut off the search for bodies. The bodies of Alfred Coakley, Charles Frear and Albert Steadwell have thus far been recovered, but William Myers, aged 10, and R. G. Simmons, aged 35, are also known to have been drowned.

The most careful inquiry fails to reveal that any woman is missing. There were five men rescued from the flood. It is estimated that the total loss by the flood will reach $200,000.

The debris is filled with thousands of skins from the factories along the river bank, and these form the largest part of the estimated loss. Many of these will be recovered. The skins are worth from half a dollar to $1 apiece. They are skins of sheep, elk, jacks, deer, water hogs, etc. Passenger trains have run regularly between Fondra and here. The misleading reports of the flood sent out have created anxiety both in this country and England.

Thousands of telegraphic inquiries were received. From the tone of many it appears that the senders supposed that Johnstown had been annihilated.

Sunday Law to be Enforced.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

CINCINNATI, July 11.—The Mayor has directed the Police to enforce the law against permitting common laborers Sunday by arresting all grocers, tobacconists, ice cream and soda stand proprietors, barbers, etc. The order does not contemplate interference with street car drivers nor newspaper work, as the Mayor regards these as works of necessity. This action is taken at the request of an organization which is hostile to the movement which has caused the closing of saloons on Sunday, and is believed to be in the interest of the repeal of Sunday closing laws.

A "Food and Ice Money," Etc.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 11.—George Whitmore, of Rochester, has complained to the police that he was robbed of $1,075 by Ada Knapp, also of Rochester. The parties were to have been married here last night. Whitmore had drawn $1,100 from the bank, and on the way to Buffalo Ada persuaded him to let her have all but $25 of the money, which he did. They were accompanied by two mutual friends named William Wolf and Charles Boyle. Whitmore went to get a minister to tie the knot, when Ada skipped with Wolf and Boyle, taking the cash with her.

The President's Callers To-Day.

NOTES ON NEWS OF THE DAY.

The French societies of New York will celebrate "The Fall of the Bastille" on the 14th and 15th inst., next Sunday and Monday, at Washington Park and Jones's Woods. The Sunday exercises will consist chiefly of music and oratory; those of Monday will include a procession and fireworks.

The disbursements to the flood sufferers in the Conemaugh Valley reached the generous sum of $2,300,000 yesterday. This does not include the money spent by the state to clear up the city. The sum to be distributed outside of Johnston has been increased to $250,000. Of this the largest single sum goes to Williamsport.

SULLIVAN has been arrested en route, and will probably be returned to Mississippi. He would make a sturdy member of the chaff-gang of that state, and soon become an adept at breaking stone. Mississippi has no call to deal more gently with the great pugilist of Massachusetts than Massachusetts one dealt with Ned Baldwin, who got ten years.

KILRAIN is not dead, as telegraphed yesterday. He was seen on a train at Little Rock yesterday afternoon, and was so sore that he shrank and quivered with pain when putting on his coat. He was supported in his seat with pillows, and his face and eyes were badly lacerated. But he is hastening home from Mississippi, and "will live to fight another day."

The Indianapolis saloon keepers having refused to pay the increase of the license fee under the new law, which raises it from $100 to $250, forty of them were arrested yesterday. This brought them to terms, and they agreed on a test case in the courts, each one in the meantime depositing $250 in the banks, to be drawn by the authorities if the law is sustained. It will be sustained, of course.

A TRAIN of sixty children sent out by the Tribune fresh-air fund came near being wrecked in a wash-out near Brandon, Vt., yesterday. The necessity of sending the little folks into the country in search of fresh air on such a day as yesterday is hardly apparent to the common understanding. A large part of the fresh air fund can be "put to soak" for another year if this weather continues.

The large sugar refinery at St. Joseph, Mo., has been closed by the Sugar Trust for three years, the consideration to the owners being $18,000 a year. This is probably a satisfactory profit for keeping the works idle, but it throws 175 men out of employment, at a loss to labor of about $100,000 a year. The Sugar Trust is under the protection of the Democratic party, which rejects all appeals to lower the duty on sugar.

FOUR jurors were obtained in the McQuade trial yesterday, but one of those drafted on Tuesday, farmer White, was excused on account of illness. The new jurors are Peter Murphy, Platt Mulford, Frank D. Rords and Charles Pitts, all farmers. The citizens of Saratoga are reluctant to go upon the jury and ingenious in framing excuses. They are anxious about their crops, and likely to think more about them than the case on sunny days.

A party causing death is guilty of murder. If, however, the penalties are provided for. Aiders and abettors are subject to a fine of not less than $1,000, or jail for six months, or both.

ST. LOUIS, July 11.—Kilrain, Mitchell, "Pony" Moore and "Johnny" Murphy arrived here this morning via the Iron Mountain Railway. There was a moderate crowd at the depot. A reporter hurried to the smoking compartment of the sleeper in which the Kilrain party were, and in a few minutes Mitchell cautiously opened the door and asked if there were any "bloody coppers" about. He was assured that the police slumbered peacefully. He then brought forth his principal. Kilrain looks bad, but is as far from the injuries received in the fight as concerned. He walks without assistance, but is far from frisky. He is a badly frightened man and fears Governor Lowry more than he did John L. He still looks to Mitchell and obeys his orders like a child. Kilrain said: "Sullivan whipped me fairly. I wasn't in condition. I was not drugged, don't blame anybody and acknowledge defeat. I still think I can whip Sullivan and shall try for another go at him." This statement was made in a disheveled way, however. Mitchell denied that there had been his falling out between himself and Kilrain, and said he would challenge Sullivan. The party will go to Baltimore via Cincinnati.

DOINGS OF THE REGENTS TO-DAY.

Motion to Change the Time of Holding Conventions Lost—Adjourned.

ALBANY, July 11.—The Regents Convocation assembled in its seventh and last session at 9 A. M. to-day. Professor George M. Forbes, of the Rochester University, addressed the Convocation on the "Elective Principle in the College Course." President J. Angell, of the Michigan University, was the only one who discussed the paper. A general discussion took place on "The Marking System as an Incentive to Scholarship, and a Means of Determining Class Rank and Promotions." The discussion was participated in by Professor Brainerd Kellogg, of the Brooklyn Collegiate and Polytechnic Institute; Principal D. C. Farr, of the Oswego High School; E. H. Cook, Principal of the Potsdam Normal School; President J. M. Taylor, Vassar College; C. W. Edwards, Principal Oswego High School; James G. Allen, of the Rochester Free Academy; and F. J. Cheury, of the Kingston Academy.

Chancellor Pierson appointed the following Executive Committee for the ensuing year: President Taylor, Vassar College; Professor Forbes, Rochester University; Professor Fagan, Manhattan College, New York City; Professor Bristol, Cornell University; Principal Farr, Oswego High School; Principal Lovell, Elmira Free Academy; and Professor Stowell, Cortland Normal School.

A resolution passed by Melville Dewey giving the Regents power to change the time of holding the convocation for the summer months to three days in Christmas week was lost.

A resolution of Professor O. D. Robinson, of Alabama, providing for a committee of three to consult with the Association of Associated Principals of the State with a view of having them hold their annual meeting the same time and place as that of the convocation was adopted.

An expression was given to the admirable manner in which Professor Oscar D. Robinson, Chairman of the retiring Executive Committee, laid out the work of the Convocation and the important and timely subject which he brought before the preparation of papers. Adjourned sine die.

THE NEW RAILROAD RATE WAR ON.

Chicago & Atlantic Meets the Reduction Made by Pennsylvania Company.

CHICAGO, July 11.—A paper here says: In spite of the fact that the Joint Committee was to consider the break in east-bound corn and wheat rates yesterday in New York, the Chicago & Atlantic yesterday met the rates made by the Pennsylvania Road. This action leaves only the Grand Trunk, Michigan Central and Lake Shore, which have not met the rates. The Grand Trunk also gave notice that if the matter was not settled by the end of the week, it would extend the reduction to pig lead, lumber, hay and mill feed, in addition to its previous notice of extension to all kinds of grain, flour, etc. None of the Great Lakes roads believe there will be a settlement, and all are preparing to meet the Grand Trunk ultimatum. The Grand Trunk also reduced the minimum on car lots of wood to 10,000 lbs. from 16,000, making a practical cut from about $85 a car, the present rate, to $55 a car, Chicago to Boston. The Grand Trunk justifies the cut by the fact that it is impossible to get more than 10,000 pounds of unseasoned wood in a car. New York is a consequent imposition on shippers to charge for 16,000 pounds. Chairman Blanchard approves the Grand Trunk's action in regard to wood.

A session of the Inter-State Commerce Railway Association was held to-day. It was decided to allow the all-rail routes between the West and the seaboard to meet any rates made by lake and rail routes.

DETROIT, Mich., July 11.—United States Senators Cullum, Reagan and Harris arrived here yesterday. They are members of the Senate Inter-State Commerce Committee.

DESMOINES, Ia., July 11.—A case likely to bring out a lively contest arose yesterday when constables seized a car-load of beer consigned from Quincy, Ill., to Fremont, Neb. The beer was brought by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Road and switched off with the explanation that it was to be sent to Nebraska over the Northwestern Road. The consignment was suspicious that it was to be unloaded here.

THE HARD-UP DEMOCRACY.

It is amusing to witness the "ghoulish gleam" with which Democratic newspapers seize upon a recent assertion of the New York Commercial Advertiser, that the "Arthur Richmond" series of letters which were published in the North American Review in 1886, and in which Secretary Bayard, Minister Lowell and President Cleveland were successively attacked, were written by "Gail Hamilton" (Miss Abigail Dodge) and Julian Hawthorne. It would have been pleasant, of course, if they could all have been charged to Miss Dodge, because she is a niece of Secretary Blaine, and the Democratic press is in the habit of holding Mr. Blaine to account for everything she writes. But there were obviously two writers at work, and hence it was necessary to drag in the name of Mr. Hawthorne, though he is neither an "offensive partisan" nor counts such a personage among his uncles.

The accusation is made but the proof is not furnished. Indeed, the Commercial Advertiser editor, before proceeding to formulate his charges against Miss Dodge and Mr. Hawthorne, reviews an effort made shortly after the death of Mr. Allen Thorndike Rice, editor of the Review, to fasten the authorship upon that gentleman himself, and after reciting several facts which led to that conclusion remarks that "this may or may not be so, but it is not valuable evidence." It may or may not be, this sapient editor just admits, that Mr. Rice wrote the letter which, after having confessed the possibility which he is forced to draw from the evidence in hand, he proceeds to exonerate Miss Dodge and Mr. Hawthorne as the guilty parties without producing a word of evidence to sustain the charge. He believes that Mr. Rice did not write the letters because "one Sargent, who had been in the employment of the late Mr. Rice for many years," wrote to the Commercial Advertiser "that he was absolutely sure that Mr. Rice had written no one of the Arthur Richmond letters." This opinion of the fellow who used to black Mr. Rice's boots is accepted by the editor as a satisfactory exoneration. But the guilt of Miss Dodge and Mr. Hawthorne he establishes on evidence less valuable than that of Mr. Rice's valet. "We have it on unimpeachable authority," says the Commercial Advertiser, "in fact from the mouth of a gentleman who was a close personal friend of Mr. Rice and had opportunities to see the manuscript, that this series of letters was written by Julian Hawthorne and by Gail Hamilton, the niece of Mr. Blaine, whose real name is Abigail Dodge." The additional statement is made that "the writer of this article saw Mr. D. A. Munro, the editor of the North American Review, and asked him whether he cared to affirm or deny this statement. His reply was: 'Of course I have no statement to make upon the subject.' This is all. The case is closed. And in the opinion of every Democratic editor of the country Mr. Blaine stands convicted of libeling the ex-President, the ex-Minister to England, and his own successor and predecessor in the office of Secretary of State.

The Troy Telegram used to make weekly attacks upon the editor of the Commercial Advertiser as an ex-rebel, a Southern sympathizer, a Democrat at heart and a political sneak generally, who was running a Republican newspaper under false colors and for the benefit of the Democratic party. His manner of procedure in this matter will compel a general acceptance of the opinion that he is a sneak of the first water. And the entire case proves to what desperate straits the Democracy are driven in their hunt for something to criticize in the administration. But would it not be a good deal more dignified and manly to return to the assault upon Granddaddy McKee?

BEER STATISTICS.

The first internal revenue district of Pennsylvania, which comprises Philadelphia and seven adjacent counties, brewed 86,662 fewer barrels of beer during the last twelve months than in the preceding year. Still 1,425,400 barrels were brewed, which quantity would have furnished every man, woman and child in the district with 825 glasses. At five cents a glass the people would have cost the consumers $32,671,500. The reduction in the consumption of beer represents a saving to the community of $1,949,895. On every barrel of beer brewed the government received 92 cents, making a total of $1,318,545. This tax is an insignificant matter compared with the price paid by the consumers. The government has estimated that the profits upon beer are four-sevenths of the receipts. This being the case, the beer brewed in the Philadelphia district paid a net profit of $17,008,026, or at the rate of $11.23 per barrel, after the government had been paid its tax.

There are breweries in this state which turn out 1,000 barrels a day, Sundays included. The possibilities of such breweries are $4,092,950 net profits per year. Without counting the distillers, or any department of the whisky trade, it will be seen that Gov. Hill has drawn around him a party that can furnish "the sinews of war" in any fight that threatens their prosperity. The profits of three breweries of 1,000 barrels capacity would suffice to put a bribe of $10 in the hand of every voter in the state of New York.

MORE STATES COMING.

Wyoming has elected delegates to a constitutional convention, to meet September 21. Idaho is already holding a constitutional convention in Boise City. New Mexico is agitating the same subject, and without doubt these three territories will be prepared to press their claims upon the coming Congress.

The question of admission, turns rightfully upon the amount of population. If a territory has a permanent population equal to the ratio for a Representative in Congress, there is no law by which she can be rightfully excluded after she has adopted a constitution assuring a Republican form of government. The present ratio of representation is 150,000.

In 1888 the population of these territories, as estimated by their Governors, was: Idaho, 100,000; Wyoming, 85,000; New Mexico, 100,000. At the same time the population of Dakota was reckoned at 700,000, and a subsequent census confirmed this estimate. Hence, if the three unadmitted territories have the same ratio of population to the vote cast by them last fall as Dakota, their Governors' estimates are too low.

Dakota, with 700,000 population, cast 106,331 votes. Idaho cast 16,012 votes, which would make her population 105,600 on the Dakota basis. Wyoming cast 18,000 votes, which would make her population 118,600. And New Mexico cast 30,612 votes, making her population 201,500. By the same process of estimating, Arizona has a population of 80,000 and Utah of 93,100. Utah's real population is much larger than this, but it is made up largely of women and children who cannot vote at a Congressional election. But Arizona and Utah are not moving for admission. The former is waiting for a larger population, and the latter has no hope from a Republican Congress.

Politically Idaho and Wyoming are Republican and New Mexico is Democratic. The Republican majority last fall was 11 per cent of the total vote in Idaho and 16 per cent in Wyoming. In New Mexico the Democratic majority was 5 1/3 per cent of the whole. The decisiveness of these majorities will be understood when it is stated that Gov. Hill's plurality over Miller in New York last fall was less than 1 1/2 per cent of the total vote cast for Governor, and that even in Pennsylvania Gov. Harrison's plurality of 79,452 was less than 8 per cent of the total vote. Arizona's majority was Democratic by over 53 per cent and Utah's by 47 per cent.

Plainly, at the present rate of increase, Idaho, Wyoming and New Mexico will be large enough to enter the Union by the time that Congress can give suitable attention to their cases. Political preferences, no matter how strongly exhibited, should not operate to bar them out for a moment.

PREACHER OF THE CHURCH MILITANT.

He expounds Sullivan and Kilrain—Valuable Lessons for Christians and Moralists.

—[From the Chicago Tribune, July 8.]
"If Mr. Brobst has never been a professional trainer his sermon is a great complement to his imagination," said a gentleman from Clark street, who was attracted to the Westminster Presbyterian Church last evening by the announcement that the minister would preach on "Prize Fights."

Mr. Brobst turned the thoughts of his audience into pugilistic channels at the outset by reading about "God's strong right arm" in the ninth verse of the ninety-eighth Psalm. He quickly followed this by a lesson from Paul's passage: "I have fought a good fight." Then he prayed that the audience might enter the arena of Christian faith. Finally he selected for the choir the most combative hymn in the song book, "Brightly Gleams Our Banner."

Having thus prepared his audience, Mr. Brobst rolled up his sleeves a little from the cuffs, and attacked the subject of the discourse. His text was the sentence in Paul's first letter to the Corinthians: "So fight it, not as one beating the air." "The gaze of this nation and foreign countries," he said, "is now centered on two men. The telegraph is throbbing with their movements. The daily press is given up to accounts of their condition. The pictorial press is filled with cuts of their every movement. The world has followed them south to New Orleans. Three Governors have issued proclamations to prevent their meeting. But they will meet, and they will meet to-morrow! Who are these two men? They are two trained pugilists—two men of brass. One is John L. Sullivan, who has amassed a fortune of over $600,000 through his prowess in the prize ring. The other is Jake Kilrain, who thinks he can knock the Boston champion out."

"See them as they face each other the fight!" Mr. Brobst squared himself behind the pulpit. He threw his fists before his breast in a defensive, yet ready attitude. He slugged from the shoulder, he sparred, he countered, he even closed with the pugilist, and could easily have thrown it over the ropes—from the rostrum. People almost rose in their seats in the intensity of their interest.

"Has the world advanced since the days of the Coliseum?" asked Mr. Brobst, after a pause in which he rubbed himself down with his handkerchief. "Has the world advanced? See the world poured out like water to witness this modern encounter. It used to be poured out in Rome the same way. But Cesar then poured it out. The nobility then poured it out. Napoleon poured it out. But the President of the United States is not on his way to New Orleans. And the three Governors who have issued their proclamations will not act as referees. No ladies will be present. In view of this difference in the class of audiences then and now, I say the world has advanced."

"Look at the preparation these two men have gone through," he said. "A short time ago they were drinkers, sensual, lecherous. But for weeks and months they have been temperate—they have denied themselves. They have passed through the severest training. Talk about taking up your cross, Christians! You ought to be ashamed of yourselves. Take a lesson in hardship and denial from these pugilists! Think how they have worked to ready for a fight which will last only a half hour."

"What a lesson this is to us!" went on Mr. Brobst. "Many of us are letting the time for preparation slip by when we have heaven's battle to fight."

"See the force they exert in the ring," said Mr. Brobst. "The will power, the determination. They struggle for hour after hour, round after round, until one falls."

"They bend their every muscle and every thought to the fight," continued Mr. Brobst. "They are willing to kill themselves to achieve victory. Take another lesson, Christians! Then look at their skill. They have spent years learning the art of parrying, and striking, and grappling. They are training the faculties of their brains so that they are rational in their work. They know what they are doing in the thickest of the fray. Ministers here it said that if they want to preach good sermons they should go into the pugilist and have it to drill to tell them what to say. But it takes skill to preach a good sermon. Ministers, take a lesson from the prize fighters! Christians, take another lesson!"

"Look, next, at the courage of these two men. We hear of Sullivan's boasting and Kilrain's self-confidence. If we could get near enough to them to-night, just on the eve of the battle to-morrow morning, I expect we could hear their hearts beat with anxiety. Reports get started that this one and then that one is going to back down. You hear it said that their trainers have to spur them up to make them come to the scratch. Well, it takes courage to walk into a prize ring and stand up before a human catapult, and take the chance of having your jawbone knocked off to go to tell them what to say. But it takes skill to preach a good sermon. Ministers, take a lesson from the prize fighters! Christians, take another lesson!"

"Look at the toughness of these two men. They are no delicate fellows. They are not to be scared by a firecracker. They are not to be paralyzed by a scratch. They stand up as that man in Brooklyn did and take a felling blow. What contempt these men are in their toughness have for suffering! Take another lesson, Christians! We are called on to suffer. Learn how to do it from these pugilists!"

Mr. Brobst made a rush at the pulpit, grasped with it in an eloquent peroration, and pronounced the benediction over an audience which would have backed him on the spot against any feather-weight in the ministry.

THE HARD-UP DEMOCRACY.

It is amusing to witness the "ghoul's glee" with which Democratic newspapers seize upon a recent assertion of the New York Commercial Advertiser, that the "Arthur Richmond" series of letters which were published in the North American Review in 1886, and in which Secretary Bayard, Minister Lowell and President Cleveland were successively attacked, were written by "Gail Hamilton" (Miss Abigail Dodge) and Julian Hawthorne. It would have been pleasant, of course, if they could all have been charged to Miss Dodge, because she is a niece of Secretary Blaine, and the Democratic press is in the habit of holding Mr. Blaine to account for everything she writes. But there were obviously two writers at work, and hence it was necessary to drag in the name of Mr. Hawthorne, though he is neither an "offensive partisan" nor counts such a personage among his uncles.

The accusation is made but the proof is not furnished. Indeed, the Commercial Advertiser editor, before proceeding to formulate his charges against Miss Dodge and Mr. Hawthorne, reviews an effort made shortly after the death of Mr. Allen Thorndike Rice, editor of the Review, to fasten the authorship upon that gentleman himself, and after reciting several facts which led to that conclusion remarks that "this may or may not be so, but it is not valuable evidence." It may or may not be, this sapient editor first admits, that Mr. Rice wrote the letter himself, and after having confessed the possibility which he is forced to do from the evidence in hand, he proceeds to exonerate Miss Dodge and Mr. Hawthorne as the guilty parties without producing a word of evidence to sustain the charge. He believes that Mr. Rice did not write the letters because "one Sargent, who had been in the employment of the late Mr. Rice for many years," wrote to the Commercial Advertiser that "he was absolutely sure that Mr. Rice had written no one of the Arthur Richmond letters." This opinion of the fellow who used to black Mr. Rice's boots is accepted by the editor as a satisfactory exoneration. But the guilt of Miss Dodge and Mr. Hawthorne he establishes on evidence even less valuable than that of Mr. Rice's valet. "We have it on unimpeachable authority," says the Commercial Advertiser, "in fact from the mouth of a gentleman who was a close personal friend of Mr. Rice and had opportunities to see the manuscripts; that this series of letters was written by Julian Hawthorne and by Gail Hamilton, the niece of Mr. Blaine, whose real name is Abigail Dodge." The additional statement is made that "the writer of this article saw Mr. D. A. Munro, the editor of the North American Review, and asked him whether he cared to affirm or deny this statement. His reply was: 'Of course I have no statement to make upon the subject.' This is all. The case is closed. And in the opinion of every Democratic editor and of the opinion of Mr. Blaine stands convicted of libeling the ex-President, the ex-Minister to England, and his own successor and predecessor in the office of Secretary of State.

The Troy Telegram used to make weekly attacks upon the editor of the Commercial Advertiser as an ex-heretic, a Southern sympathizer, a Democrat at heart and a political sneak generally, who was running a Republican newspaper under false colors and for the benefit of the Democratic party. His manner of procedure in this matter will compel a general acceptance of the opinion that he is a sneak of the first water. And the entire case proves to what desperate straits the Democracy are driven in their hunt for something to criticize in the administration. But would it not be a good deal more dignified and manly to return to the assault upon Grandbaby McKee?

BEER STATISTICS.

The first internal revenue district of Pennsylvania, which comprises Philadelphia and seven adjacent counties, brewed 86,662 fewer barrels of beer during the last twelve months than in the preceding year. Still 1,425,400 barrels were brewed, which quantity would have furnished every man, woman and child in the district with 325 glasses. At five cents a glass the product would have cost the consumers $35,071,500. The reduction in the consumption of beer represents a saving to the community of $1,949,895. On every barrel of beer brewed the government received 93 cents, making a total of $1,315,545. This tax is an insignificant matter compared with the price paid by the consumers. The government has estimated that the profits upon beer are four-sevenths of the receipts. This being the case, the beer brewed in the Philadelphia district paid a net profit of $17,098,026, or at the rate of $11.23 per barrel, after the government had been paid its tax.

There are breweries in this state which turn out 1,000 barrels a day, Sundays included. The possibilities of such breweries are $4,092,500 net profits per year. Without counting the distillers, or the department of the whiskey trade, it will be seen that Gov. Hill has drawn around him a party that can furnish "the shew of war" in any fight that threatens their prosperity. The profits of three breweries of 1,000 barrels capacity would suffice to put a bribe of $10 in the hand of every voter in the state of New York.

MORE STATES COMING.

Wyoming has elected delegates to a constitutional convention, to meet September 24. Idaho is already holding a constitutional convention in Boise City. New Mexico is agitating the same subject, and without doubt these three territories will be prepared to press their claims upon the coming Congress. The question of admission, turns richly upon the amount of population. If a territory has a permanent population equal to the ratio for a Representative in Congress, there is no law by which she can be rightfully excluded after she has adopted a constitution assuring a Republican form of government. The present ratio of representation is 150,000. In 1888 the population of these territories, as estimated by their Governors, was: Idaho, 100,000; Wyoming, 85,000; New Mexico, 160,000. At the same time the population of Dakota was reckoned at 700,000, and a subsequent census confirmed this estimate. Hence, if the three unadmitted territories have the same ratio of population to the vote cast by them last fall as Dakota, their Governors' estimates are too low.

Dakota, with 700,000 population, cast 106,381 votes. Idaho cast 19,012 votes, which would make her population 105,600 on the Dakota basis. Wyoming cast 18,010 votes, which would make her population 118,000. And New Mexico cast 30,612 votes, making her population 201,500. By the same process of estimating, Arizona has a population of 80,000 and Utah of 93,100. Utah's real population is much larger than this, but it is made up largely of women and children who cannot vote at a Congressional election. But Arizona and Utah are not moving for admission. The former is waiting for a larger population, and the latter has no hope from a Republican Congress.

Politically Idaho and Wyoming are Republican and New Mexico is Democratic. The Republican majority last fall was 11 per cent of the total vote in Idaho and 16 per cent in Wyoming. In New Mexico the Democratic majority was 5 1/3 per cent of the whole. The decision of these majorities in the whole, when it is stated that Gov. Hill's plurality over Miller in New York last fall was less than 1 1/2 per cent of the total vote for Governor, and that even in Pennsylvania Gen. Harrison's plurality of 79,452 was less than 8 per cent of the total vote, Arizona's majority was Democratic by over 53 per cent and Utah's by 47 per cent.

Plainly, at the present rate of increase, Idaho, Wyoming and New Mexico will be large enough to enter the Union by the time that Congress can give suitable attention to their cases. Political preferences, no matter how strongly exhibited, should not operate to bar them out for a moment.

PREACHER OF THE CHURCH MILITANT.

He expounds Sullivan and Kilrain—Valuable Lessons for Christians and Moralists. (From the Chicago Tribune, July 8.)

If Mr. Brobst has never been a professional trainer his sermon is a great compliment to his imagination, said a gentleman from Clark street, who was attracted to Westminster Presbyterian Church last evening by the announcement that the minister would preach on "Prize Fights."

Mr. Brobst turned the thoughts of his audience into pugilistic channels at the outset by reading about "God's strong right arm" in the ninth verse of the ninety-eighth Psalm. He quickly followed this by a lesson from Paul's passage: "I have fought a good fight." Then he prayed that the audience might enter the arena of Christian faith. Finally he selected for the choir the most combative hymn in the song book, "Brightly Gleams Our Banner."

Having thus prepared his audience, Mr. Brobst rolled up his sleeves a little from the cuffs, and attacked the subject of the discourse. His text was the sentence in Paul's first letter to the church in Corinth: "So fight I, not as beating the air." "The gaze of this nation and foreign countries," he said, "is now centered on two men. The telegraph is throbbing with their movements. The daily press is given up to accounts of their condition. The pictorial press is filled with cuts of their every muscle. The world has followed them south to New Orleans. Three Governors have issued proclamations to prevent their meeting. But they will meet, and they will meet to-morrow!"

Who are these two men? They are two trained pugilists—two men of brawn. One is John L. Sullivan, who has amassed a fortune of $500,000 through his prowess in the prize ring. The other is Jake Kilrain, who thinks he can knock the Boston champion out.

"See them as they face each other for the fight!" Mr. Brobst squirmed himself behind the pulpit. He threw his fists before his breast in a defensive, yet ready attitude. He slugged from the shoulder, he sparred, he countered, he even closed with the pulpit, and could easily have thrown it over the ropes—from the rostrum. People almost rose in their seats in the intensity of their interest. "Has the world advanced since the days of the Coliseum?" asked Mr. Brobst, after a pause in which he rubbed himself down with his handkerchief. "Has the world advanced? See the money poured out like water to witness this modern encounter. It used to be poured out in Rome the same way. But Caesar then poured it out. The nobility then poured it out. Mankind poured it out. But the President of the United States is not on his way to New Orleans. And the three Governors who have issued their proclamations will not act as referees. No ladies will be present. In view of this difference in the class of audiences then and now, I say the world has advanced."
